WRITING

Directions

Read the prompt in the box below.

Two of the passages you read in Session 1 are about people who do not have typical occupations. Think about another unusual job that you have either heard about or for which you have seen a need. Write a paper in which you describe that occupation and explain why it interests you.

Use the space below for your prewriting activity (such as brainstorming, listing, freewriting, clustering, mapping, or drawing). You should use the prewriting activity that you usually use to plan your writing. Your work on this page will not be scored.

FINAL COPY

Directions

Now you have time to revise your draft. Reread your draft and think about the Writer's Checklist below. Check every box that makes a true statement about your draft.

Writer's Checklist

- ☐ My paper has an effective beginning, a middle, and an end.
- ☐ My paper stays on the topic.
- ☐ My paper flows smoothly from one idea to another.
- ☐ My paper contains a strong controlling idea.
- ☐ My paper progresses in a logical order.
- ☐ My paper includes specific and relevant details, reasons, and examples.
- ☐ My paper contains sentences that are clear and varied in structure.
- ☐ My paper includes effective use of paragraphing.
- ☐ My paper includes correct grammar/usage, punctuation, capitalization, and spelling.

For every box you did not check, make the necessary revisions on your draft before you write your final copy on Pages 9 through 12.

Item 5:

Why is the story titled "Two Words"? Use information from the story to explain your answer.

Example(s) of a Top Score Point Response:

The title, "Two Words," probably refers to the main character's name, Belisa Crepusculario. She chose these words to be her name, which means beauty and twilight.

Score Points:

- 2 points Response explains the significance of the title and supports the answer using information from the story
- 1 point Response includes an overly general and/or simplistic explanation of the title, but is essentially correct and text-based
- 0 points Other

Score Points:

- 2 points The response demonstrates that the student has a complete understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that is accurate, complete, and fulfills all the requirements of the task. All necessary support and/or examples are included, and the information given is clearly text-based. Any extensions beyond the text are relevant to the task.
- 1 point The response demonstrates that the student has a partial understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that may include information that is essentially correct and text-based, but the information is too general or too simplistic. Some of the support and/or examples may be incomplete or omitted.
- 0 points The response is inaccurate, confused, and/or irrelevant, or the student failed to respond to the task.

Item 6:

What is the mood of “Two Words”? Use details and information from the story to fully explain your answer.

Example(s) of a Top Score Point Response:

The mood of the story is serious. The passage’s focus, survival in an inhospitable land, demands a serious treatment. The author reinforces the mood by emphasizing the poverty of the people.

Score Points:

- 2 points Response includes a complete and reasonable explanation of the mood of the story (serious, allegorical, inspirational, hopeful, tragic, optimistic, or another reasonable term) and uses details and information from the story as support
- 1 point Response includes an overly general and/or simplistic explanation of the mood of the story, but is essentially correct and text-based
- 0 points Other

SCORING NOTES:

- 1 pt. responses may include trivial reasoning or minor details from the text
- 1 pt. responses may include a simplistic and/or partial explanation

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: Response may discuss the change in mood in the story, but this is not required for 2 pts.

Score Points:

- 2 points The response demonstrates that the student has a complete understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that is accurate, complete, and fulfills all the requirements of the task. All necessary support and/or examples are included, and the information given is clearly text-based. Any extensions beyond the text are relevant to the task.
- 1 point The response demonstrates that the student has a partial understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that may include information that is essentially correct and text-based, but the information is too general or too simplistic. Some of the support and/or examples may be incomplete or omitted.
- 0 points The response is inaccurate, confused, and/or irrelevant, or the student failed to respond to the task.

Item: 7

Page: 12

Content Standard(s): CA2

Process Standard(s): 3.1

Item 7:

What is Belisa's main problem in this story? Use details from the story to explain how she solves her problem.

Example(s) of a Top Score Point Response:

Belisa's main problem in the story is that she has to find a way to survive (through the drought/in her life). In order to solve her problem, she leaves her village and travels toward the sea. She then decides to sell words for a living, so she pays a priest to teach her how to read and write and buys a dictionary.

Score Points:

- 2 points Response includes a complete and reasonable explanation of Belisa's problem and her solution to it, and uses details from the story as support
- 1 point Response includes an overly general and/or simplistic explanation of Belisa's problem, but is essentially correct and text-based
- 0 points Other

SCORING NOTES:

- 2 pts. response must include a solution that correlates to the problem
- 2 pts. response includes a valid text-based problem AND a detailed solution, i.e., "dying then recovery" OR "poor then career" OR "illiterate then skilled with words," etc.
- 1 pt. response identifies a valid text-based problem only OR identifies a valid text-based problem with an overly general and/or simplistic solution, i.e., "She is poor;" "She is trying to survive;" "She can't read or write and then she learns things"

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: Responses may include any of SEVERAL major problems or (at least partial) credit, including "illiteracy;" "starvation;" "ignorant;" "dying family;" "impoverished;" "uneducated;" etc.

Score Points:

- 2 points The response demonstrates that the student has a complete understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that is accurate, complete, and fulfills all the requirements of the task. All necessary support and/or examples are included, and the information given is clearly text-based. Any extensions beyond the text are relevant to the task.
- 1 point The response demonstrates that the student has a partial understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that may include information that is essentially correct and text-based, but the information is too general or too simplistic. Some of the support and/or examples may be incomplete or omitted.
- 0 points The response is inaccurate, confused, and/or irrelevant, or the student failed to respond to the task.

Content Standard(s): CA2, CA3, CA4

Process Standard(s): 1.6

Item 15:

Summarize the differences between career opportunities for someone living in the society described in "Two Words" and the society described in "Gumshoes Turn to Internet for Spadework." Use examples from both passages in your summary.

Example(s) of a Top Score Point Response:

People in the society portrayed in "Two Words" probably have less chance for advancement. They are most likely born to their standing and occupation and don't have the opportunities to change. Belisa was probably unusual in this respect. On the other hand, based on "Gumshoes. . .," if people in today's society are willing to embrace technology and learn new things, they can go as far as their ambitions will take them. Their success will be somewhat tied to their circumstances, but overall, they are far more likely to get a satisfying and/or good-paying job than their counterparts in "Two Words."

Score Points:

- 2 points Response includes a complete and reasonable summary of the differences between career opportunities in the two societies and uses examples from both passages as support
- 1 point Response includes an overly general and/or simplistic summary of the differences between career opportunities in the two societies, but is essentially correct and text-based
- 0 points Other

Score Points:

- 2 points The response demonstrates that the student has a complete understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that is accurate, complete, and fulfills all the requirements of the task. All necessary support and/or examples are included, and the information given is clearly text-based. Any extensions beyond the text are relevant to the task.
- 1 point The response demonstrates that the student has a partial understanding of the communications concept embodied in the task. The student has provided a response that may include information that is essentially correct and text-based, but the information is too general or too simplistic. Some of the support and/or examples may be incomplete or omitted.
- 0 points The response is inaccurate, confused, and/or irrelevant, or the student failed to respond to the task.
